Hallowe'en Cases To Be Tried Here Next Week

BALLANTRAE FARMER DESTROYED SISTER'S LINE FENCE

Numerous residents of North Gwillimbury Township filled the Newmarket police court on Tuesday to listen to the many interesting cases to be tried as the result of Hallowe'en pranks played in the vicinity of Ravenshoe. Lewis Raxlen, counsel for four of the boys, was unable to be present, so all charges were adjourned until next week.

Clifford Rea of Ravenshoe, Delbert Crowder of Roche's Point, Clarence Mapes of Bloomington and Hugh Ross were charged by Constable J. Jardine with breaking and entering the premises of William Vandenberg of Ravenshoe, and also damaging his property.

Clifford Rea and Jack McClure were charged by Harry Vanstone with damaging his property.

William Vandenberg was charged by Constable William Hill with unlawfully discharging a loaded shotgun at Ivan Hills and Lucille Sedore with intent to do grievous bodily harm.

Harry Vanstone of Ravenshoe was charged by Clifford Rea with assault.

F. H. Armitage of Toronto, charged with fraud by W. L. Bosworth, of Newmarket, was remanded in custody for one week. Bail was set at $1000.

Harry Draper of Keswick, whose evidence was heard last week, appeared for sentence on a damage to property charge. He was remanded for sentence on payment of the damages which amounted to $5.

Ward Phelan of Toronto, charged by Constable Sloss with failing to register, was acquitted as the arrest was made before accused had been back in Canada for one month.

Samuel Nesbitt of Ballantrac was charged by Constable Windsor with destroying a line fence.

Edward Peterson of Vivian testified that he had helped put up the posts three years ago between Nesbitt's and Mrs. Coppin's property. Mr. Nesbitt had put half the posts up. The fence had never been completed. The accused had taken the posts out since on two different occasions. Mrs. Coppins is a sister of accused.

"There was an argument about three years ago between the late Mr. Coppins and Mr. Nesbitt," testified Constable Robert Windsor. "About the first of October this year I received a complaint from Mrs. Coppins about the posts. On October 23, accompanied by Constable Williamson, I saw Mr. Nesbitt and asked him why he had dug these posts out, and he said the land belonged to

DONALD COCKBURN ATTENDING SCHOOL IN WEST

Donald Cockburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Cockburn, left last week for High River, Alta., with an aunt of Mrs. Cockburn, Mrs. Geo. McIrvine. Planning to spend the rest of the school year with his aunt and uncle there, Don is already attending high school in the town where he was born.

WORKMAN SERIOUSLY INJURED AT MILITARY CAMP

William Young of Markham, a carpenter working on the new drill shed at the military camp, suffered a fractured skull and hemorrhage Tuesday morning when struck by a piece of plank.

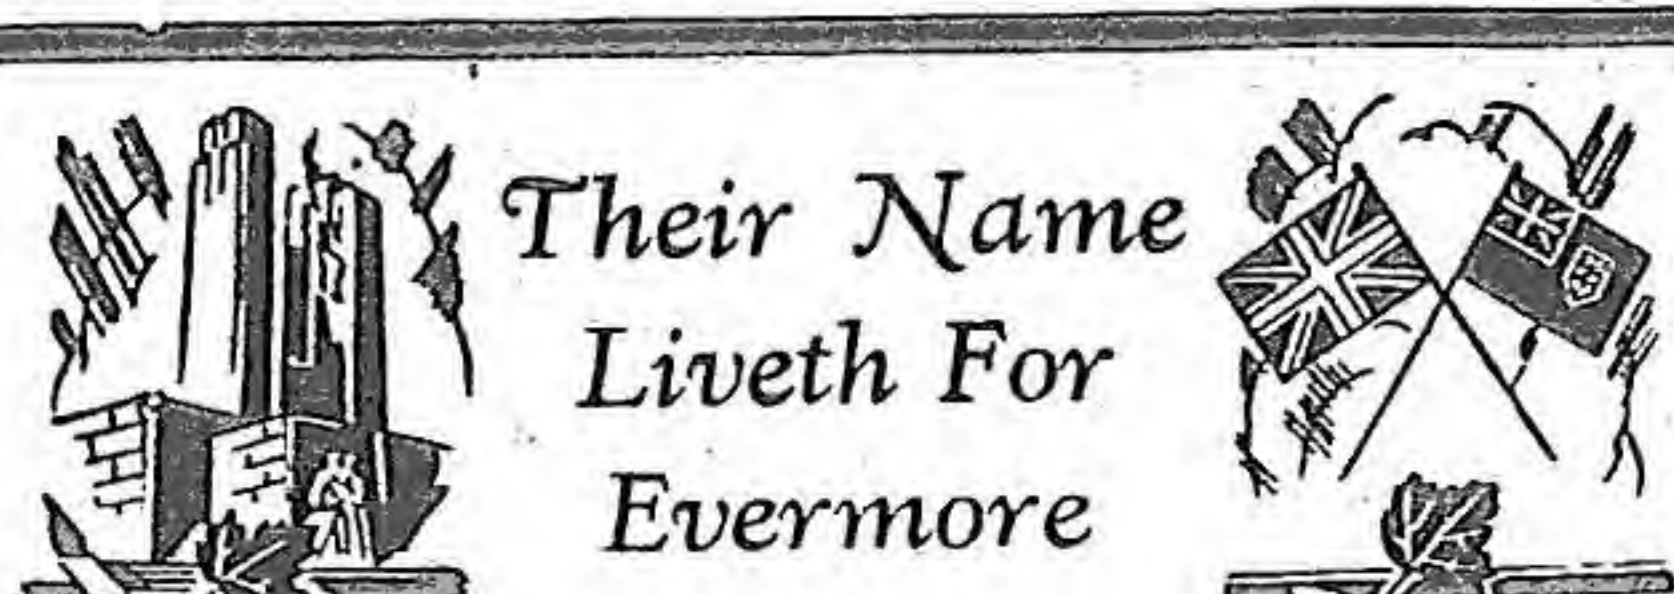

Young was attended by Dr. Cock, who had the injured man rushed to York County hospital. At midnight Tuesday Dr. Pratt, brain specialist from St. Michael's Hospital, Toronto, performed an operation.

Though Young is in a critical condition, Dr. Cock thinks that he has better than a fifty-fifty chance of recovery. This is the first serious injury during the construction of the camp.

him. I asked him if he hadn't agreed three years ago that that was the line, and he didn't answer. He had four posts on his own property behind his house. He said they were the posts he had dug up, and that he would have young Coppins up for a public nuisance if he put the posts in again. Last Saturday after the charge was laid, Mr. Nesbitt had the property measured by Mr. Cummings. The posts have now been put back a foot and are not in line with the other posts, so it would be impossible to put up a fence."

"I wanted to get a surveyor, and Mrs. Coppins said she didn't have the money to pay for one," testified accused. "She's getting the pension now. She got sore when I took the posts out. I got Mr. Cummings to measure it last Saturday and found the posts on the west end are over one foot on her land, and six inches on the other end."

"He thought the fence was over (Continued on Page 5, Col. 1)

NEWMARKET RELIEF DOWN 31 PERCENT

Among the 44 towns and villages of Ontario which spend upwards of $10,000 annually for relief, the town of Newmarket stands 21st in the group in the matter of reducing relief expenditures, according to an announcement to-day by Honourable Eric Cross, Minister of Municipal Affairs and Public Welfare.

For the first nine months of the present year, relief expenditures in Newmarket amounted to $6,743, a reduction of 31.0 per cent from the same period in 1939.

As a group, the 44 towns and villages reduced costs from $1,651,363 in 1939 to $1,078,914 this year, a saving of 34.7 per cent. This compares with a reduction of 35.5 per cent for the 27 cities and 38.8 per cent in the 30 townships which fall in this category. There are 101 municipalities in Ontario which last year expended more than $10,000 for relief, and of this number 98 have shown decreased costs for the nine-month period. The entire group of 101 have compiled a reduction of 35.9 per cent, with expenditures down from $15,669,124 in 1939 to $10,042,370 in 1940.

ABLE TO FINANCE CUSTOMERS IN WAR EFFORT UNTIL VICTORY

Toronto, Nov. 14—Canada's financial ability to handle her war effort without upset to the national economy is bounded "only by the volume that can mechanically be produced," declared H. T. Jaffray, President of The Canadian Bankers' Association here today, addressing the 49th annual meeting of that body. He based this conviction upon a review of the strength revealed in the position of the chartered banks at the end of the first year of war, as well as upon the extent of the country's material, natural and financial resources.

Highlights of Speech
"A nation's war effort," said Mr. Jaffray, "must, in the final analysis, be governed by its financial strength." A sharp condemnation of suggestions for inflation or "funny money" featured the speech. Other highlights included a warning that taxation if carried to extremes could, by its impact upon inventories, produce all the privations of deflation; an expression of decided confidence in regard to the wheat problem; a declaration that in view of the part played by Canada's mines in supporting the nation's war-time buying strength, governments should give every encouragement to mines to increase their production. Mr. Jaffray had no misgivings that Canada's purchases of materials and equipment in the United States may have to be reduced. He paid high tribute to the work of the Bank of Canada and the Foreign Exchange Control Board, and expressed confidence in the Empire's ultimate triumph over Hitlerism.

Banks After Year of War
Dealing with the effect of the one year of war on the position of the chartered banks, the bankers' President stressed their ability to finance the requirements of their customers in war effort until victory, without curtailing the legitimate requirements of their customers for ordinary purposes. During the one year of war deposits of all kinds in the chartered banks had increased by $146 million and now stood at $3,142 million as of August 31st, 1940. Balances with the Bank of Canada, cash and other immediately available assets had decreased from 22 per cent of total deposit liabilities to 19 per cent in the same period—"a moderate decline indeed," commented Mr. Jaffray.

Current loans to the public at August 31st this year had reached $939 millions—an increase of $113 million in actual financial assistance being extended to customers throughout Canada. Bank holdings of short term, high-grade Dominion and provincial government securities, all maturing within two years, had risen from $443 million at the outbreak of war, to $700 million at August 31st this year. In the same period long dated similar (Continued on Page 5, Col. 4)

VETERANS OBSERVE ARMISTICE ON SUNDAY

Headed by the two Newmarket bands, Newmarket Veterans and Firemen paraded to the Free Methodist Church on Sunday for their annual Armistice service. The church pulpit and background were suitably decorated with Union Jacks.

Rev. Babcock took for his text, "Greater love hath no man than this," paying eloquent respect to those who gave their lives in 1914-18, and those who were fortunate enough to return home.

Short addresses were given by Mayor Boyd and Reeve Lundy. Mrs. R. Beckett and Miss Elsie Gibbons, and Mrs. T. Gilkes and son Lloyd rendered inspiring duets. Comrade Bill White recited "In Flanders Fields."

The service concluded with prayer by Rev. Capt. Andrews. A number of the officers from the military training centre joined the local Veterans in this service of remembrance.

In the afternoon several carloads of our returned men journeyed to Richmond Hill for the big York County service, where Hon. W. P. Mulock was guest speaker.

Just a few lines to let you know that I received your most welcome paper every week, and it sure is nice to read the letters that the boys in different regiments write, and to know that the old town has at last come to life by making it a training centre.

I also see that the next lot will soon be called up.

Thanks a lot for those cigarettes which were sent. I haven't got them yet; but I guess they will come along one of these days. They went back to Halifax.

Well, I will have to bring it to an end for this time. Thanking you and the people who are responsible for the many nice things we are receiving.

$23,100 SURPLUS IN YORK COUNTY

A surplus of over $23,100 in the 1940 budget was forecast yesterday when Treasurer W. W. Gardhouse presented an interim financial report to York County Council, showing controllable expenditures of all departments to be 11.67 per cent underspent for the first ten months of this year.

The report revealed county finances to be in the best condition in many years, with 1940 marking the eighth consecutive balanced budget. To date, $689,297 of the county levy, not due until Dec. 21, has been prepaid. Last year all municipalities had prepaid their county levy in full by Dec. 1, the first time in thirty years. It is expected this will be repeated this year.

Controllable expenditures for the first ten months of this year was $231,817, or 75.43 per cent of the total controllable budget for 1940. Revenue is already 116.19 per cent of the amount estimated for the entire year. Net controllable expenditure for the ten-month period is $201,607, or 71.66 per cent of the net budget for the entire twelve months.

BRITISH-ISRAEL
Mr. S. Sparks of Toronto gave an excellent address entitled "There'll Always Be An England." "Why," at the regular weekly meeting last Sunday.

Two weeks from this coming Sunday we are to have Rev. Eric de Penlington to give an address in the Strand Theatre. Mr. Penlington cannot come for an evening session because of evening service at his own church in Toronto, so has arranged to be with us this Sunday afternoon in the near future. He is an accomplished speaker and a great favourite with the Newmarket branch, so there will certainly be a goodly number interested in this announcement.

Miss Mabel Harbottle, also of Toronto, another prime favourite with Newmarket branch, is to give another of her interesting addresses very soon as well.

If anyone interested has never heard these speakers, then there is a treat in store for them, since both are particularly outstanding

GLEE CLUB AND PLAY WELL RECEIVED

The auditorium of the Newmarket High School was packed to capacity Friday evening for the annual commencement program and graduation exercises. Mr. A. M. Mills acted as chairman.

Miss Jean Smith, winner of the Miss Lyons' shield for character, leadership, scholarship and athletics, was the valedictorian, delivering the following address:

Mr. Chairman, teachers, fellow-students and friends of the school:

Newmarket High School! In future years, what memories will these words bring to the minds and hearts of those graduating this year? We all realize what this school has meant to us, and it is within these walls that we have studied five years to receive our diplomas to-night. To many of us they mean a continuation of our education in university, college or normal school—to others, an entry into business life which we face with a feeling of greater assurance. I think my thought is expressed by Solomon in these words: "Seest thou a man diligent in business? He shall stand before kings."

How many of us have longed for the day when we would cross the school's threshold for the last time. A great many I think, but we must realize that our happy school days are over, and we are now travelling a road that leads to still greater things. I know I shall miss the familiar faces and surroundings of the school. Things that will never be forgotten—the excitement of school parties and dances, the thrill of basketball, rugby and hockey games, every one of us sharing in the defeat or victory of the players. Always we will cherish the comradeships formed and remember the fine fellowship and school spirit of the pupils.

Too, we must not forget our athletic and literary society activities. I wonder how many of the present student body know the motto of the Literary Society. In Latin it is: "Non progrederi est regredi"—not to go forward is to go back. And what better motto could a school society have that gives something of literary value to the students such as form programmes put on by the students themselves, oratorical contests and interesting inter-form debates.

Coupled with all these things is the wonderful guidance of the teachers who have so generously and willingly helped us throughout the past years. We, the graduates, wish to extend to them our deepest gratitude for their help and inspiration and we hope (Continued on Page 8, Col. 3)

NEWMARKET WOMEN'S INSTITUTE MAKE GENEROUS CONTRIBUTION

Christmas parcels for Newmarket boys overseas, and in Newfoundland were packed and shipped Monday evening by the committee of the Newmarket Women's Institute and the local veterans.

Each box contained one and one half pounds of Christmas cake, one pound of butter, one large chocolate bar, one pencil, one handkerchief, one tin of meat spread, one can of corn, (page Verne Clark), one shaving stick, one package of envelopes, one writing pad, one tin of oxa, one package crackley nut, one pair of socks, one sweater, one pair of mitts, one helmet, and one pair of wristlets.

The knitted goods were gifts from the Newmarket Women's Institute, while the other goods were paid for from other donations to the Soldiers' Comfort Funds.

A goodly number of Newmarket people—in the factories, on the main street, housewives and even school children send in contributions to this fund. To you, for our boys away from home, we say "thank you." That the lads appreciate these parcels is evinced in every letter received.

Days Of 1914-18 Recalled By Lions

TRIBUT PAID TO EMPIRE'S HEROES

Tribute was paid to the Empire's glorious dead on Monday evening by the Lions, when they observed one minute silence at their regular meeting. With a number of veterans and Major Collier and Lieut. Green from the military camp present, the evening was spent in recalling the days of the Great War.

Moff Cockburn, assisted by Sid Marwood, screened a half hour's views of familiar scenes in England and France, while Alec Eves led in a sing-song of old familiar war songs.

Ronald Eves contributed two stirring numbers, "Rule Britannia" and "Home on the Range." The young singer, who bids well to outshine his illustrious sire, was given a mighty ovation.

Major Collier, who was celebrating his birthday, and Lieut. Green, spoke briefly. During Lieut. Green's remarks, he told the Lions one of the biggest criticisms that had been offered about the training camps, was, "You can't make soldiers in 30 days." However, the boys and officers had worked so well together that, while soldiers of C.A.S.F. calibre had not been turned out, the purpose of training men for the defence of Canada had been achieved, and these boys would be just as effective as the Finns were in defending their country.

A sum of $163.43 realized from the concert recently sponsored by the club, was bolstered to $200 out of club funds and cheques for $100 each presented to Floyd Maybee, president of the Newmarket Veterans for their Soldiers' Comfort Fund, and to W. L. Bosworth for the Red Cross. Major Collier made a birthday gift of one dollar to each fund.

Dr. Cock won the draw for the $5 war savings stamp, and Wilmo Lundy the attendance prize. Sid Brice, secretary of the Veterans, thanked the Lions on behalf of the veterans present, for the splendid evening.

EDITORIAL

LET'S HAVE A CROWD

One week from to-morrow, Friday, November 22, is nomination night at the old town hall. In past years this event has been a drab affair, but this coming event should provide some verbal fireworks. Four hundred and ninety-six citizens recently signed a petition to demand a vote on the one or two year term, showing that they are interested in the affairs of the municipality. It is hoped that the vast majority of these petitioners, along with other citizens, will fill up the vacant chairs, and also nominate candidates for the several offices. Already the Mayor and Alderman Mungovan have decided that they are through with municipal life, while the names of several other aldermen are on the list of doubtful starters.

We need a good strong council in every department in the coming year. You may be the man. In any event, be on hand Friday evening next to look over the financial statement, and hear your town affairs discussed.

WILL HELP YOUNG MEN

There may be among the class of young men called for a month's military duty those who regard it as a nuisance, an interference with normal methods of life, comments the Kelowna Courier. On the whole, there should be enthusiasm for the work. And, to all, the training will bring sharp realization of the menace and meaning of war. Far removed from scenes of actual conflict, many Canadians remain unimpressed by the gravity of the situation.

Apart from that, physical and mental benefit will result from the training. With the exception of those engaged in athletics, young men do not get enough exercise as compared with the days when more walking was obligatory. The military camp will provide plenty of bodily activity, and the mind will be stirred by new duties and new associations.

A military camp resembles a school in which enduring friendships are formed. The honor of the regiment is something to be guarded. "Esprit de corps," it means good conduct and loyalty to one's companions.

Then there is the discipline. There has been a growing tendency to scoff at discipline as something old-fashioned. But obedience to reasonable regulations is the mark of good citizenship. Laws of the land mean discipline of the individual, and offenses against these laws is a specialty with subversive elements who would overthrow the whole system of government in this country.

Discipline is the first principle of military life; and it should be recorded that Canadian veterans of the last war who learned thoroughly its value, are among the best and most loyal citizens of this country.

THE USE OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS

There is need in Toronto for a definite policy in respect to the use of school buildings. And it is equally essential that this policy should reflect a liberal attitude toward such use, reads an editorial in the Star of Saturday. At the present time the finance committee of the board of education deals with applications from citizens' groups wishing to hold meetings or affairs in the school buildings. A number of organizations, such as the home and school ratepayers' associations, have been granted continuous permits to use the schools, but to other groups permits are issued in a hit-and-miss fashion, ungoverned by principle or even precedent.

This year the board of education has received many more requests for the use of schools in the evenings, and this is something that should be welcomed, not decried. It shows that there is more activity in the community, more interest in the public welfare. Such activities are to be welcomed also for their beneficial effect on both personal and public morale which at this time is highly important.

There has been criticism for some time that the schools in Toronto do not contribute to the life of the community as they might. In the United States as well as in other countries, the school-houses are more and more becoming neighborhood centres. In the daytime they serve the children, and in the evening the adults. Modern schools, with gymnasium, auditorium, library, and their spaciousness, are equipped to become the social hub of the neighborhood. A recent survey in the United States showed that an increasing number of rural as well as urban schools are serving as recreation and community centres for the adult population. Thus they bring people together to enjoy a variety of wholesome activities, to learn and have fun together. In some cities the civic recreation department organizes groups in music, art, crafts, etc., after school hours, and organizations also hold their meetings and festivals there. The state of Oregon has by statute declared that public school buildings may be used as civic centres where citizens may engage in supervised recreation activities, hold their meetings, etc. There are not many better ways of making good citizens and promoting national unity.

From the financial angle also it seems logical that schools should be used in this way. Here is public property which has cost millions to build and costs thousands of dollars annually to maintain, and it is not right that it should be used only two-thirds of the time. As has been done elsewhere, a plan can be devised also here to make fuller use of the school-houses without unduly increasing the maintenance costs.

YES, I REMEMBER NEWMARKET

Cold as the hair on a polar Bear,
Dark as the darkest night,
The blast of Reveille rings in our ears
And wakes us from sleep that is light.

Cold as the nose of an Eskimo,
As we all stand waiting in line,
Waiting our turn to the mess to go
At the end of a long, long line.

First period - - drill, the syllabus says,
With rifles and bayonets fixed;
Second, a lecture - - there's one every day;
None of the war arts are missed.

Third Period, drill and also the fourth,
Then physical training's begun;
The exercise taken here in the north
We shall only forget with the last setting sun.

At luncheon again there is noise and delay
As the huts all await their noon meal;
After which we renew the work of the day
And a route march enlivens our zeal.

Up hill and down dale, into town and then out,
Past hospital, factory, town-house and farm,
No bands, and no shouts as we parade out,
Only the smiles of the folk of the town.

At supper a tired and hungry array
Lay plans for the evening ahead;
Most within the camp bounds will stay,
While others will wander 'fore bed.

At nine-thirty the roll of each hut is called,
And at ten-fifteen "Lights Out".
'Tis then that the jokes and the laughs are bawled
Till sleep drives wakefulness out.

HAVE you ever thought of your bank as a citizen, taxpayer, employer and consumer? Your bank strives to be a good citizen — to render a useful service for a moderate remuneration. AS A TAXPAYER, your bank pays heavy sums to your community, your province and the Dominion — Canada's chartered banks paid over $9,000,000 last year alone; $42,000,000 in the last five years. AS AN EMPLOYER your bank and other chartered banks in Canada furnish employment to thousands of persons who are an asset of real value to the Community and to the Dominion. The banks paid last year over $35,000,000 in wages — in the last five years, $174,000,000 — a direct distribution of buying power all over Canada. The value of the services rendered by our men and women workers cannot be appraised in dollars. Their efficiency, courtesy and integrity are largely responsible for the goodwill and pleasant relations between Canada's chartered banks and the people they serve. AS A CONSUMER the bank is a customer of your utilities — water, light, power; it pays rent, buys fuel, office equipment, telephone and telegraph services, everything needed in modern business.

In war, as in peace, Canada's Chartered Banks maintain, uninterrupted, their useful services — safeguarding depositors' funds; facilitating the nation's business — looking forward to peace with freedom as the only sure basis of enduring prosperity.

STANDARD POTATO BAGS "TABLE POTATOES" TAG

Now that the height of the season for potato grading, packing and shipping is here, the Fruit and Vegetable Division of the Dominion Department of Agriculture offers the reminder that a change in standard potato bag sizes became effective last season. It became illegal to use the old 80 and 90 pound potato sacks.

Standard potato bag weights are now 100 pounds, 75 pounds, 50 pounds, 25 pounds and 15 pounds. When potatoes are packed in paper bags in retail stores for sale convenience, they should be packed in multiples of 5 pounds, that is to say, 5, 10 or 15 pounds. All potato bags must be properly marked to indicate the name and address of the packer, the proper designation of the grade and the net weight when packed.

The Marketing Regulations contain a new stipulation to the effect that tags attached to potato bags, or to branded potato bags must include the words "Table Potatoes." This procedure was found necessary in order to prevent the sale of table potatoes as seed potatoes and to establish the fact that potatoes grown and packed as table stock must not be sold as certified seed potatoes.

127TH BATTALION HOLD ANNUAL REUNION

The annual banquet of the 127th Battalion, York Rangers, took place at the Ulster Club, Toronto, on Friday, November 8. There were about 120 of the old Hungry Dozen, and the speakers were Lt.-Col. John M. Gibson, Major H. Campbell, Major J. R. Bell, and the old sock wonder of York County, Col. J. B. Little. Telegrams were received from Col. F. F. Clarke and Chance Boylen, but they were put under arrest for not being present.

CUBS ENJOY HIKE

Last Saturday afternoon about 30 Wolf Cubs gathered in the Cub Hall, at the United Church, to leave on their hike. At two o'clock the Pack started off with their knapsacks full of food, to cook for their supper. The Cub Den was about half a mile north-west of Alf. Lewis' farm, on Huron St. Different games were played, also a short rugby game. The Cubs took keen interest and great delight in a certain game called "Bomb Raids." General Mike McCaffrey's army captured the enemy, under Capt. Bill Thompson.

At 5 o'clock the supper call was given. Each six had their own fires and were given just one match to light it. The Grey Six, under Sixer Wayne Manning, came first, taking just 45 seconds to have their fire under way. The Blue Six, under Perc. Chantler, came a close second. If any hamburger shop needs a good cook, try Keith Mosley, for he is an expert at cooking hamburger steak. Aubrey Smith had a close call when a goat gave him an unexpected lift and tore his belt off.

At six o'clock fires were put out and everything packed for home. The Pack arrived in town a very weary lot, but still able to sing their old camp songs. The Cubs wish to thank Alf. Lewis for always being so kind and generous in giving the Cubs his property to use for a hike.

DEATH CLOSES INTERESTING LIFE OF DISTRICT PIONEER

Death wrote finis to an active and very colorful life at Sutton on Sunday with the passing of John Boyce Sprague at his residence on High Street, in his 95th year.

Although born in North Gwillimbury and active as a youth and later in life, it was while in the West as a young man that he had an adventurous life. He left the family home at Keswick to go to Winnipeg, where his older brother was in the lumber business. In the West he put to practical use his training as a Canada Land Surveyor in mapping out timber limits. Later he went into transportation for the Hudson's Bay Company and while in charge of wagon trains between Swift Current and Battleford, he had a tilt with Louis Riel's rebels, losing his horse to the rebel cause.

The late Mr. Sprague was born of U. E. Loyalist stock, his grandparents having come from N. Y. State. He became active in North Gwillimbury politics early in life and was the first Deputy-Reeve to represent that township in the York County Council, before he left for the West.

Returning from the West while still young, he married Miss Hannah Woods 54 years ago, and for about 30 years farmed at Roches Point. He was for a great many years a member of Roches Point School Board at Deer Park school.

Just 20 years ago Mr. and Mrs. Sprague retired from farming to come to their present home in Sutton. He had been failing for months, yet was up and about only a few days prior to his passing.

The late Mr. Sprague was a staunch Conservative, and before retiring was an active member in Sharon Lodge, A.F. and A.M.

Mrs. Sprague and four of his children are surviving: Mrs. Edwin Rhodes of Brighton, Mich.; Mrs. V. Richardson of Stirling; Miss Hazel, at home, a teacher at Newmarket; a son, Boyce, of Larder Lake, Ont.

The funeral was held from his late home to Briers Cemetery, with Rev. Mr. Forte of Christ Church, Roches Point, and Rev. P. G. Powell of St. James', Sutton, officiating. Pallbearers were Messrs. Edwin Rhodes, V. Richardson, Maj. Ernie Sprague, Newmarket, a nephew; Reeve Wm. Pugsley, Sutton; Arthur Thompson, Thornhill, and Edward Norris, Queensville.

VELMA WIDDIFIELD MISSION CIRCLE

The Velma Widdifield Mission Circle will hold their Thanksgiving meeting in the Junior Room, Trinity United Church, on November 15th, at 8 p.m. Mrs. G. Lapp of Keswick, will speak. Miss Jean Hunter and also the Double Trio of the Junior Choir will sing. A social hour will be held at the close of the meeting. An invitation is extended to all interested to attend.

HOME PLOWING COMPETITION BANQUET

Despite the shortage of farm labour and the lateness of autumn work, the Junior Farmers in York County turned in a creditable showing in the 20th Annual Home Plowing Competition. A total of thirty-four entries were received, just a few short of last year, which under adverse conditions, is commendable.

Now that the judging has been completed, a complimentary banquet will be tendered the competitors and their friends in the Vaughan Township Hall at Velore on Tuesday evening, Nov. 26, at 7 o'clock standard time. Following the banquet, presentation of prizes and a short programme will be run off.

This banquet always enjoys the co-operation of parents and others who are interested in the promotion of the young plowmen of our county. An added feature this year will be a description of plowing practices in United States by Fred Timbers, who began his champion plowing career as a junior farmer in the Home Plowing Competition.

HOMESTEAD IN OAK-CLAD RAVINE BOUGHT BY ROBERT JONES IN KING

Sale of picturesque Georgian style home and 10 acres of land in King township to Robert Jones was closed this week through J. A. Willoughby, realtor.

The homestead is located on a ravine and is surrounded by fine old oak trees. Part of the property is set out in fruit trees, apple, cherry and plum, and there is a good garden and about a quarter of an acre of bush. The house, which the new owner intends to remodel, is a very good example of the old Georgian pioneer home, and it has been preserved and kept up. It contains a number of large rooms with two open fireplaces and a good cellar. The property overlooks a branch of the Humber river and the hills of King township. This property is located in the vicinity of the late Sir Henry Pellatt's farm and is just west of Eaton Hall farm.

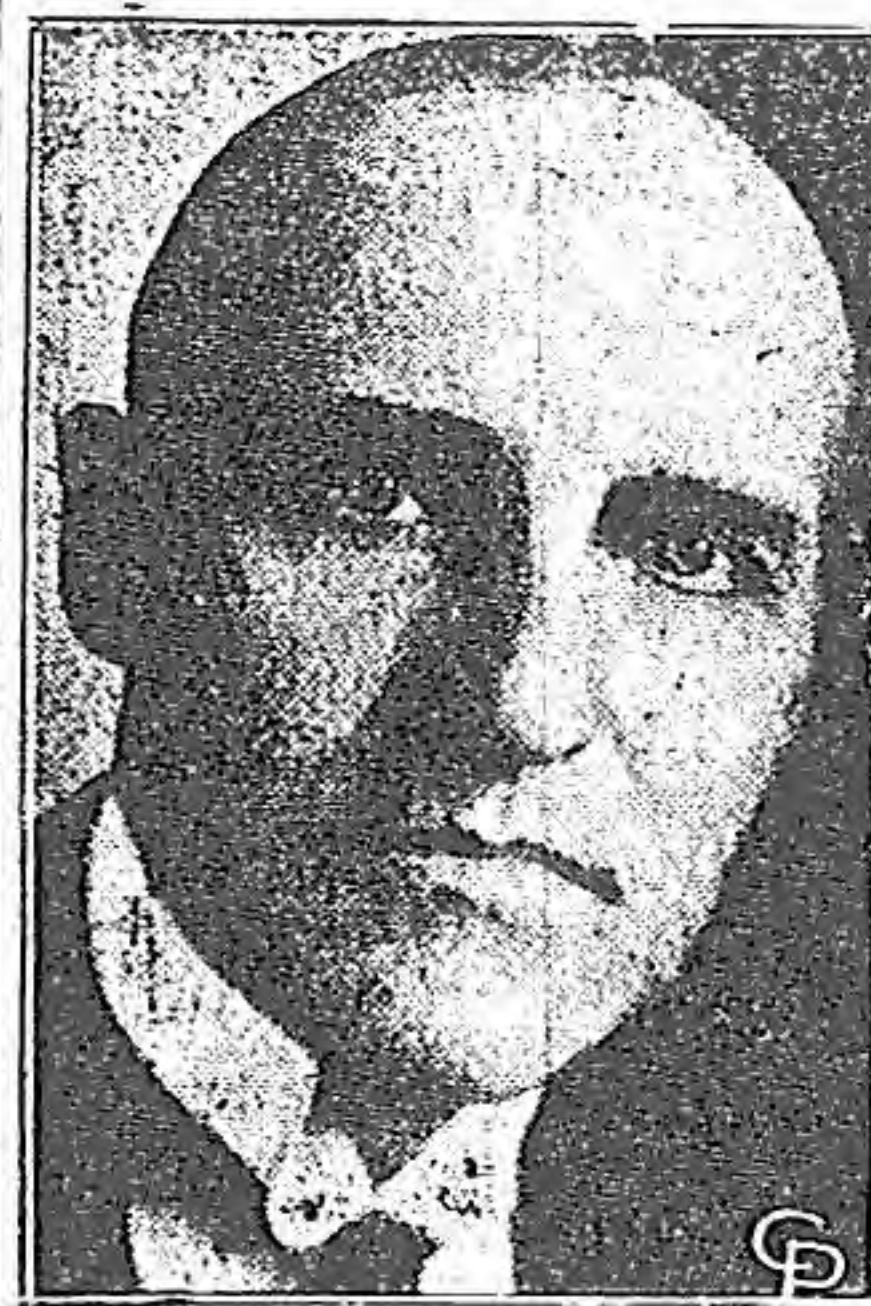

OLD GOLD ATTRACTS NOTICE

This week, citizens have been perusing with interest the collection of old ornaments, coins, etc., on exhibition in Wainman's store window. Many of them are over one hundred years old, beautiful old pieces including quaint lockets, lovely old bracelets, old fashioned rings, cuff links and other ornaments—especially dear to the feminine heart.

Amongst the brooches is one of particular interest centred with strands of interwoven hair, one fair and the other dark, belonging to the husband and son of the owner and no doubt deeply cherished. Inscriptions on this quaint piece tell of the passing of these two loved ones over 100 years ago.

P. B. Crews, gold expert of Toronto, who is at Wainman's jewelry store for the purpose of buying gold, could tell many interesting stories attached to the pieces which he purchases. With pure gold now at $35.00 per ounce, Mr. Crews explains, many are anxious to sell these old pieces, being in need of money, while others like to determine the value of their keepsakes, a service which Mr. Crews renders free of charge.

HON. J. L. RALSTON, the Minister of National Defense, through whose efforts the Military Training Camps were established. THANK YOU NEWMARKET

After spending some 20-odd days in camp at Newmarket, we believe everybody at the camp is of the opinion that the people of Newmarket are "pretty darn swell." They are really friendly dwellers of a thriving town of whom everybody reads—but few city dwellers actually know.

We believe that almost every trainee at the camp must feel a little different social atmosphere since he came up here—not only from his associations with the boys at camp, but more particularly with the people of Newmarket.

There is a friendly atmosphere from the clerks in the various stores; friendliness on the streets when Newmarket people stop to talk to the boys and enquire how they are getting along, and the friendliness that has been manifested a great many times by the Newmarket families who have invited some of our boys in for dinner, even though they did not know them previously.

Needless to say, all these little gestures are appreciated, and the editors of this paper wish to take this opportunity of thanking the citizens of Newmarket for the many kindnesses they have shown us during our stay.

Being friendly is probably nothing new to the populace of Newmarket. But it is rather new to a Military trainee who has been a city dweller and has been used to having people give him the cold shoulder. The change has been a pleasant surprise. To our friends in Newmarket, THANKS! — The Colours, Newmarket M.T.C. paper.

ON THE RIM OF THE ARCTIC CANADA MARCHES ON

Dr. and Mrs. L. B. William of Toronto, this past summer journeyed northward to the end of the highway at Hearst, to the end of steel at Moosonee, and by boat to Hudson's Bay Co.'s greatest North American post on Moose Factory Island, to bring back in the finest of natural color, pictures on the silver screen, the story of Canada's expanding destiny.

The program, presented in St. Paul's Parish Hall on Tuesday evening next at 8 o'clock, portrays a glimpse of the romance of the fur trade of America in the 17th century, Indian life of the Arctic, the possibilities of the future and the happenings of today.

Earliest white man habitation of Northern and Southern Ontario contrasted a review of the Anglican Indian Mission School and Hospital and Church. In spite of all that science has done, the husky dogs and their sleigh are still man's trusted transport and the Indian in his solitude, the fur trapper.

The program is as educational as it is interesting. There will be a commentary with loud speaker accompanying the pictures, which, may I say again, are portrayed in natural colors. There will be a silver collection to defray expenses.

Weddings

BOYD—FAWCETT

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Fawcett, Holland Landing, on Monday afternoon, November 4, when their eldest daughter, Ora Marion, was married to William E. Boyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Boyd, Newmarket. Rev. A. E. Runnells, D.D., of Trinity United church, Newmarket, officiated, the ceremony being performed in the presence of the close relatives.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was becomingly dressed in sapphire blue, and wore a corsage of sweetheart roses. She was attended by the groom's sister, Miss Catherine Boyd, who wore a costume of old rose with corsage of thistle roses. Mr. Allan Fawcett, the bride's brother, was groomsmen.

After congratulations had been bestowed, a dainty luncheon was enjoyed after which the bridal party left for Toronto, from which point they later left by train for Nobel, where they will reside, and where the groom is employed as chemist in the B.S.B. laboratory.

WELL KNOWN HORSE LOVER ROBERT MATHEWSON, DIES

Following an operation, the death occurred in Toronto on Friday, of Robert Mathewson, of Queen street, Newmarket, in his 73rd year.

Bob Mathewson was born at Flesherston, and for the past 38 years he and his wife, Louise Mathewson, had resided in town on Queen street. For a number of years he sold implements on the Main street, where the Bank of Montreal now stands.

Following this he worked at his trade of carpentry, but for the past few years had lived retired.

Townfolk and people of the district will recall his splendid driving horse "Sandy," of which Bob was so justly proud. He and his horse were familiar figures at fall fairs and exhibitions near and far, "Sandy" winning no less than sixty-eight first prizes, besides cups and medals. Mr. Mathewson's most prized possession was a large glass case he had made, containing the horse's picture, ribbons and a brass plate inscribed "Sandy."

A member of the Friends' Church, the funeral service on Monday was conducted by the Rev. Burton Hill. Pallbearers were six nephews of the departed. Interment took place at Maple Cemetery.

Surviving are his widow and two brothers, Fred and William of Flesherston.

BUYS TICKETS TO HELP FUND

When offered official guest box tickets to the Motion Picture War Services Rodeo, in aid of the Lord Mayor of London's Air Raid Victims Fund, Premier Hepburn insisted instead in buying them from the Queen's Park War Services Guild. Shown above are Miss Zealand, Premier Hepburn and (centre) O. R. Hanson, chairman of the Motion Picture War Services Committee.

WHY SHOULD WE FIGHT FOR ENGLAND?

"Why should we fight?" he asked me, "Cause England is at War? Why are they fighting now, Dad? What are they fighting for? What does it mean to you, Dad, to Babe and Mums and me? The Germans won't come here from away across the sea. So why should you go there, Dad, and leave us here to cry? It is 'cause England owns us? Is that the reason why?" His eyes looked widely at me, I tightly held my son, And this is how I answered his questions one by one:

"We fight when England calls us, for in her sacred keep The ashes of our fathers lie in her soil—asleep. And many times for England they fought that she'd be free, And they are part of England, and so, my son, are we. And some may pass her by, lad, and some may scorn her hand, But we must be forever a part of that fair land. For everything we have son, that good, and fine, and just, Was washed in British blood and given to us in trust."

"And we must keep that trust, son, against the force of greed, And fight beside Old England whenever she's in need. And once again she's calling, across the empire wide, And all her Empire answers, 'You'll find us at your side.' Oh, yes, we're owned by England, but we own England, too, As you are part of me, son, and I am part of you."

PTE. SAMUEL PEPEY'S DIARY

There'll always be an angle, but trying to think for yourself after thirty carefree and happy days in Newmarket Military Camp is like walking along the duckboards on a frosty morning. Very hard, indeed!

Life really begins in number four platoon at six A.M. to the sour notes of the bugle; as if this doesn't hurt enough, our Platoon Goof, T. P. Price, chimes in with "I Love Life" (followed by a barrage of pillows). Awakened by this, Baritone L. Price and Co. arise.

Soon comes the mad rush for basins in the washroom already long occupied by Pearce, Miller and Duncan.

Between reveille and seven o'clock Corporals Rose and Morgan attempt to arouse those who are used to the office jobs we hear so much about.

Sweeping and bed-making form the daily routine before the trek to breakfast. After this, the boys should really have help to get into their corsets—alias Webb equipment.

Eight o'clock parade reminds some of us plutocrats of the Easter parade. Lt. Sale insists that we carry out his ideas on dress. Shoes must be polished, uniforms properly worn, buttons done up. Two bearded members, Griffin and Donson, even retired for shaves on one occasion. Other alterations do not receive privacy because a man must step out one pace from the ranks and adjust his attire.

After our morning exercises and afternoon sessions, which usually finish up with a brisk route march, the boys look forward to supper and the good old source of retreat from the bugler—God bless him.

When Tattoo sounds, the roll is called regardless of Henkel and our trumpet swinger, Kojak, who just reach their beds on time.

Then the fourth platoon swing-ers come out of their shells to swing into some good old-fashioned and modern dances. Cpl. Rose and Pte. G. Cooleen on guitars, with Smith, Iris and "Barber" Morgan on Chromatics. But we enjoy this life as a whole, even those who attend sick parade or who become latrine "Roomers" to escape the invigorating route marches.

Unfortunate incidents happen occasionally. We thought that Lt. Woods would require some headache tablets when he caught Pte. Giffen drinking pop during a demonstration platoon drill; anyway words failed him.

Then comes the story of S. Brown, who has five big jobs to do on his last day here; so if anyone has five bullets, please get in touch with him. Even the Sergeant-Major has his hands full keeping him awake during lectures.

The boys from this platoon so far, are a great credit to the York Rangers. Not one crime has been marked against any soldier yet; and we are proud to see that out of twelve men sent to the 'D' Company demonstration platoon, Mullings, the old countryman, was in London for the first time in his life. His town-bred nephew was showing him the sights. Coming to a cinema, the elderly man stopped to stare at the highly colored posters.

"Great guns!" said Mullins tremulously, as his eyes fell on a large poster displaying a group of lions and tigers. "I'm glad I'm going home on Saturday morning."

"But uncle," asked the boy, "why are you so anxious to get away?"

Mullings pointed to a strip of lettering over the poster. "Look!" he said. "It says, 'To be released on Saturday night!'" too far on his own property," stated defence counsel.

"You had no business to touch the fence," admonished His Worship. "The fence was on her property. You were just trying to cause trouble. It's not a very nice attitude to take towards your sister. I'll adjourn this case one week, and in the meantime put the posts back where you dug them out!"

"I don't want to take land off the pension," replied accused.

John Schafer of the Holland Marsh was charged by Constable Watt with having no operator's license and no license plates.

"On Thursday, October 31, at about 5.45 p.m., on the 3rd concession of King, I saw the accused man driving a truck which had no license plates," testified the officer. "On investigating I found that accused had no 1940 operator's permit. He stated that he had one for 1939, but had never had it renewed. He also stated that he thought the truck was a tractor. He only used it occa-tionally on the 3rd of King. There are similar contraptions in the marsh area. It is just an ordinary truck with a flat bottom. I warned two persons from the Marsh before.

On the charge of failing to have license plates, accused was fined $1 and costs. He was remanded for sentence on the other charge.

William Graig of Pefferlaw, charged by Constable Hill with theft, was not present. This case will be brought up again next week.

Ambrose J. O'Donnell of Timmins was fined $5 and costs for speeding.

THAT'S THE SPIRIT

When that darn reveille blows And we start another day, The heat of northern mornings Nearly takes our breath away.

We rush around our barracks Changing this and changing that, 'Cause they change the rulings daily

So we won't get too darn fat.

So after parade is over, Then we really start the day, And the sergeants, corporals, majors,

Help us while the time away.

We eat, we sleep, we march, we drill,

We dig and polish, too, And if we have an hour left

There's fatigue for us to do.

We study small arms, bayonets and gas;

We scrounge and swear and smile. The songs we sing are cheery ones,

As we march mile by mile.

So this is life up here at camp, My verse you cannot doubt;

And we'll all be splendid tommies If our poor feet don't give out.

—F. A. Beresford.

—The Colours, Newmarket M.T.C. paper.

"MEET YOU AT THE SALLY ANN!"

The centre of all official camp activities is Battalion Headquarters; the centre of all unofficial camp activities is certainly the Salvation Army Hut, or, in army "lingo," the "Sally Ann." The average trainee does not know how important a job the S.A. are doing in the present war. Everywhere a Canadian soldier stands guard, sharing the same danger is the Salvation Army. World-wide known as the greatest humane movement, in wartime it carries on the job.

Captain Falle, the young chap in charge of the canteen in our camp, is well-known and well-liked by every trainee in every company. However, we do not believe that we do everything in our power to lessen the load he carries. We know that he must find fatigue workers hard to get to clean up our canteen. Why is this so?

Every meal-time, voices arise from the table, "Meet you at the Sally Ann!" And those voices will continue to rise until the "Beast of Berlin" has gone down in defeat. Victory goes to soldiers and politicians; but we know who else is worthy of mention, much more worthy than is commonly acknowledged—"The Sally Ann!"

—The Colours, Newmarket M.T.C. paper.

Office Manager—I'm afraid you are ignoring our efficiency system, Jones.

Jones—Perhaps so, sir, but somebody has got to get the work done.

Clerk (at same counter) "Would your little son like a game of checkers, ma'am?"

"He'd love to," smiled the woman, "that is, if you can spare the time."

CHARTERED BANKS' STRENGTH REVIEWED

Continued from page 1 col. 4 securities had dropped from $743 million to $604 million. This meant that to the extent of approximately $140 million the banks swung from longer to shorter date securities to maintain a thoroughly liquid position and to aid in the additional financing of war contracts and other business. Notes in circulation of all banks showed no increase. Bank of Canada note circulation was up $127 million—$13 million of this increase being held by the chartered banks; the balance was not in excess of the day-to-day requirements of the country's increased volume of business. Mr. Jaffray cited the above figures as indicating the ability of the banks to handle the war effort requirements of industry.

Can Carry War Program Turning to the ability of the country as a whole to handle its war effort he pointed out that government war orders—some 35,000 in number—placed up to the end of September, totalled $550 million—$110 million on Canadian account, $140 million on British account. The figures covered all purchases of munitions, aircraft, armaments, food and clothing and did not include soldiers' pay or the $235 million of plant expansion which, with other items, brings Canada's war commitments and expenditures to date up to something over a billion dollars.

To finance this program war loans had raised $500 millions of new money; taxation and other revenues had provided the rest. "With the ever increasing development of our natural resources, a favourable export trade balance of nearly $200 million a year—(it was $45 million for the three months of June, July and August last), and with a considerable part of war expenditure in the form of wages finding its way into the hands of individuals, and available to some extent for subscription to further Dominion loans," Mr. Jaffray continued, "I am firmly convinced that Canada can handle its war effort limited only by the volume that can mechanically be produced, and without upset to our national economy."

Would Encourage Mines Commenting upon suggestions that an adverse balance with the United States might operate to restrict Canada's purchases in that country, Mr. Jaffray pointed to the adverse balance of imports over exports for June, July and August amounting to $65 million. He added: "but these figures do not include interest payments abroad nor the revenue of tourist traffic, nor do they include gold shipments. The first two are not greatly out of balance, and as the total value of our gold production for the same three months exceeded $51 million, available if needed to balance the account, coupled also with the accumulation of American assets in one form or another controlled by a Canadians and which can also be drawn upon, if necessary, to support our war effort. I cannot share in these misgivings, but I think the figures do emphasize once more the enormous value of our mineral production and stress the view that every encouragement should be given by our Governments to our mines to increase production.

Inflation and "Funny Money"

"From time to time," he continued, "we hear suggestions to the effect that Canada should resort to inflation, or to one kind or another of 'funny money' to finance this war. I cannot too strongly condemn any such suggestions as not being in the best interests of the country, and because such experiments must inevitably carry with them an aftermath of depression. Labour of every kind is doing its part in the war effort in a whole-hearted manner, working long hours, waiving holidays, and in contributing both by its efforts and with its earnings to the country's need. To resort to any expedient that would bring to the working man at the end of this war another period of depression, is beneath the consideration of a country such as Canada, and I can only think that those who advocate such proposals cannot realize what the results would be. There is only one way in which to finance this war, and that is by taxation up to a level beyond which it would ruin its own purpose, and over and above that by borrowings, to be paid from the development of our unlimited natural resources over a period of time.

Extreme Taxation Unwise

"Perhaps I might develop for a moment the question of tax-

Wheat No Detriment

Mr. Jaffray then touched upon the wheat situation, refusing to regard the West's large crop as a detriment "rather than a blessing." It had produced financing and storage problems which another crop might even accentuate, "but, in spite of this, I would say that it is my conviction that this national wealth added to the country is a tremendous asset, and that in the long run every bushel of grain that we grow will be needed. But it is possible that for the next year or two a percentage switching from wheat to feeding grains may be in the best interest of our farmers."

Sure of Victory

Mr. Jaffray closed with a note of confidence in ultimate victory. He said: "In the minds of those of us who have some faint conception of the enormous assets, real and potential, of the British Empire, and with the resources of other friendly nations, including our neighbours to the South, at our disposal, there can never be a moment's doubt as to the final outcome. Once these are converted into one huge machine bent on crushing our enemies, the end will come, and come speedily, and the last vestige of Hitlerism will be wiped from the face of the earth. Let us hope that the day will not be too long postponed and that when it comes, it will only be the dawn of a happier world."

war. Notwithstanding higher current loans, federal taxation had practically doubled, provincial taxes had not been reduced, and any small margin of added earnings that might be left to the banks would not be too large to provide for unavoidable losses in the after-war industrial adjustment. "I cannot see where the banks stand to gain," said the President.

Praises Bank of Canada

Touching the Bank of Canada and the Foreign Exchange Control Board, Mr. Jaffray declared that they had both done an efficient, far-sighted job and if, particularly in the realm of exchange control, individuals considered their personal liberties infringed, "I would only say to them that nothing has been done which is not in the best interests of the country, and of the freedom of the world, and that their individual inconveniences are a minor matter."

Sure of Victory

Mr. Jaffray closed with a note of confidence in ultimate victory. He said: "In the minds of those of us who have some faint conception of the enormous assets, real and potential, of the British Empire, and with the resources of other friendly nations, including our neighbours to the South, at our disposal, there can never be a moment's doubt as to the final outcome. ROCHE'S POINT

A social evening will be held in Christ Church Parish Hall on Friday, November 15. The main feature of the programme will be the showing of films by the Shell Oil Co. of Canada.

Films to be shown will be "On Guard for Thee" (this picture illustrates Canada's war effort), "Cartoon Comics," "Travelogues" etc. Refreshments will be served by the ladies. The programme will commence at 8 p.m. daylight saving time.

A cancer-causing substance (or substances) accumulates in the livers of patients suffering from cancers in other parts of their bodies. Suitably extracted and prepared, it is capable of producing new cancers when injected into mice. This announcement is made by Dr. Paul E. Steiner, of the University of Chicago, in "Science."

NEWS FROM KING CITY AND DISTRICT

Mrs. William Mason observed her 90th birthday on Sunday, Nov. 3. Many callers and old friends called during the week to honour this splendid lady. Her health is remarkably good these days, and she is living in her own home and plans to spend the winter there. She maintains her usual lively interest and enjoys the prayer meetings held so often at her home. Despite her absolute deafness, the work and progress of the Baptist church deeply concerns her. A birthday cake and a bouquet of 'mums' came from her son Percy, of Winnipeg. We wish her good health, safe-keeping and many blessings.

Miss Margaret Walker of Orillia spent the remembrance week end at her home in King.

Mr. Gilbert Foliott of Montreal spent the weekend with his parents at Temperanceville.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Crawford of Guelph were in town last week for the funeral of the late George Stone.

In the pouring rain on Monday, Nov. 11, Remembrance service was held at Schomberg, when a body of veterans was present. Sir William Mulock and local clergy. The party formed at the cenotaph where a wreath was placed, and the Last Post and Reveille sounded by Jas. Butler of Richmond Hill. Rev. F. V. Abbott led in the prayer, and Rev. J. McEwan read the scripture lesson. Following this phase of the service, all repaired to the school where Sir Neville Chamberlain, he said, "It is too early to estimate the great service he has rendered his country."

A fairly good representation of townspeople was present at the ceremony, although it had been earlier decided upon to withdraw the public service due to the very inclement weather, in which case only the veterans would have been called out. Sir William, however, came directly to Schomberg after placing a wreath at Aurora cenotaph at 11 D.S.T. The difference in time made it possible for him to appear at Schomberg cenotaph.

We are glad to report Mrs. J. Jennings of Temperanceville is slowly improving from a serious illness.

Delegates to the Women's Institute convention were: Mrs. R. Walker, Mrs. A. Gordon, Mrs. C. Stewart, Mrs. J. Walsh, Mrs. D. Rawlings, Mrs. Campbell from King City W.I., from Temperanceville, Mrs. Howard Clark, and Mrs. J. Boak from Nobleton.

The organization of a branch of the Upper Canada Bible Society, was formed last week when Rev. Mr. Allnutt gave an illustrated address on the progress of the society's work, at Laskay United Church, before the Y.P.U. and congregational members and members of St. Andrew's, St. George's, Rev. Mr. Davis was chairman, and associated with him was Rev. M. E. Burch. Officers elected were: H. E. Ross, president; Rev. D. G. Davis and Rev. M. E. Burch, vice-presidents; Marshall McMurchy, secretary-treasurer. The district is to be divided into five areas. Collectors appointed are: Irene Marshall and Isobel Forester; Bessie McBride and Jean Ross; Helen Ross and Mrs. Bert Ross; Mrs. W. Boys and Miss M. Todd; Marjorie McMurchy and Mrs. B. Dooks.

In former days a branch of this society was active on the sixth, and the reformation of a group will help to further the cause. We understand that a representative of the Lord's Day Alliance organization will be in the King district shortly, and that means a call at your door in the interest of a worthwhile cause. Rev. and Mrs. Galloway, Mrs. Hugh Hamilton and other members of Potageville B.Y.P.U. attended the Toronto Association Y.P. rally held in Walmer Road Baptist church, when Rev. Dr. Archer gave the special address.

Many changes come to small places as the years pass, and with the passing of the late George S. Stone it might seem that the time honored Bakery would suddenly end. For more than fifty years, Stone's bread has found its way into hundreds of homes because the business was founded and carried out upon lines of integrity.

There will still be "Stone's Bread" with the red truck plying its way along the familiar roads, and in and out country lanes. The head of the business will be the son, Jack Stone, the youth, whose eyes are yet dimmed from tragedy, and whose young heart is heavy from the fateful death of his still-young father. On these slim shoulders will fall the heat and burden of the day. But Jack "has what it takes." He has not sat at his father's side these past months, learning the business for nothing. He is not afraid of long hours, for he was his father's pal, and he will be a good baker, a good business man, and an honest, worthy citizen. Jack will have the support of his mother, also experienced in the business routine. So you and I, Stone's customers, will be glad to see the little red truck stop at our door.

We are glad that tragedy has not robbed us of our long association with the firm, and that we can encourage a young man and a widow to carry on. Eversley W.A. met at the home of Mrs. J. Black last week, completing plans for a tea and bazaar to be held at Mrs. Gellatly's, King, on December 4, at 3 p.m., D.S.T. Officers for Eversley Y.P.S. were recently elected at the opening meeting: President, Ethel Ferguson; vice-pres., Edith Bovair; secretary, Dorothy Ball; treasurer, Marie Ball; pianist, Frances Ross. Meetings will be held on Monday evenings. The 80th anniversary of the 10th line Presbyterian Church will be held on Sunday, Nov. 17, at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. standard time. At the morning service, Rev. H. Carmichael, Ph.D., of Toronto, will preach, and at the evening service Rev. Jno. Galloway of Mimico. A quartette from Knox Church, Vaughan, will sing, assisted by the church choir. All are welcome. Teston anniversary services were exceedingly well attended, the church being filled fifteen minutes before the time for opening in the evening, which fact, the evening speaker, Rev. C. H. Dickinson of Toronto, thought a good sign in Christian Endeavour. Rev. C. E. Fockler and Maple choir attended the morning service, and Rev. C. H. Dickinson and Laskay choir in the evening. Mr. Dickinson chose as his address, "The Church in a War-World." The breadth and strength of the Christian church around the world point to its hope and future strength. For the most part suitable references were made to Remembrance Day on the following day, in all of the churches on Sunday, Nov. 10. Rev. M. E. Burch

KESWICK

Misses K. and Margaret Peel of Toronto, spent the week-end at home.

Miss Marjorie Glover is at home after a few weeks in Toronto.

Lake Simcoe was lashed to a fury by Monday night's and Tuesday's gales, but no damage is reported in this district.

There is some talk of municipal elections. We understand the voters are to be given the chance to say if the new Reeve and the Council appointed this year will remain in office for a two-year term.

Sunday guests in the village were Rev. and Mrs. Richard Morton and son, Laurence, of Newcastle; Mr. and Mrs. Norman Morton and son of Thornhill, and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Morton. Rev. Morton took time before leaving Monday to call on a few old friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hirst were Sunday guests at Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Pollock's.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Anderson, Master Howard Anderson and Jean of Egypt, visited Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Prosser on Sunday.

Mr. Hart Baker, who has been in business here for some time, has left Keswick.

Mrs. Ben. Johnston of Sutton, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Prosser on Sunday.

There was no service at the Christian Church on Sunday evening because of Anniversary services at the United Church.

A work meeting of Keswick Red Cross Society will be held in the Sunday School room of the United Church on Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 19.

A reorganization meeting of the North Gwillimbury Township Red Cross Society will be held in Belhaven Hall on Saturday evening, Nov. 16, starting at 7.30 o'clock p.m. standard time. Major Watson of the main office will preside. This is a very important meeting.

Large crowds attended the anniversary services of the Keswick United Church on Sunday, Nov. 10, when Rev. Richard E. Morton preached splendid inspiring sermons. His subject in the morning was "The Church of God," and the evening his subject was "The Kingdom of God." Rev. Morton stressed the need of church work in this time of war. The choir sang a number of beautiful selections. Mrs. Rolph of Newmarket sang a very lovely solo at the morning service, and Mr. Lawrence Morton, Rev. Mr. Morton's son, played a very beautiful offertory on the piano at the evening service. Rev. Mr. Lapp assisted Rev. Morton at the services.

On Thursday, Nov. 7, the committee of the Women's Association, headed by Mrs. Ralph Henry, served a delicious supper to a large crowd. A short enjoyable program was held after the supper. Rev. Mr. Lapp was chairman. Those who took part were Mrs. McGenerly, who gave a reading entitled "Neutral," which taught a good lesson. Miss Doris sang "Secrets" very sweetly. Mr. W. Davison led the community singing and told some very humorous stories.

Miss Doris White gave two readings very effectively, "The Song of Elder Jones," and "The Courtship of Larry McGee." Mrs. Ernest Morton told of the glad game of Polly Anna, and the chapter from the book Pollyanna. Miss Joy Marritt sang the verses of the hymn "Count Your Many Blessings," while the audience joined in the chorus. Mrs. White sang a very charming solo.

Overseas Mail Situation Reviewed

LONG DELAYS CAUSED BY CIRCUMSTANCES BEYOND CONTROL

The following article, recently received from Ottawa dealing with overseas mail, will be of real interest to many of our readers:

Ottawa,
 November 8, 1940.

The Editor:
 Dear Sir:

From time to time complaints have appeared in the press of delays in Trans-Atlantic Air Mail and in the delivery of mail to troops overseas, etc. In some cases these complaints are justified, but in the majority of cases the delay is caused by circumstances beyond the control of the Post Office Department.

Dealing first with Air Mail, the situation is as follows. The Northern route, operated direct from Canada, was discontinued some time ago and we have since had to depend entirely on the Southern route which is not under United Kingdom or Canadian control. Recently the Service has been operated very irregularly, as for instance, the flight scheduled for Tuesday, October 29th, was postponed to Wednesday, October 30th and again to Thursday, October 31st. The flight scheduled for Saturday, November 2nd, was cancelled and the next scheduled flight designated for Thursday, November 7th. In the meantime advice was received to the effect that a further postponement had been made to November 9th and only to-day advice was received of a further postponement to November 11th. You will appreciate that in the meantime Post Offices throughout Canada have been in good faith, accepting Air Mail letters for transmission over this Service, but in view of the series of postponements there will be inevitable delay. We are not implying any fault with the operators of this Service who are carrying on under extremely difficult war conditions. The fact remains, however, that the Canadian Postal Service can never be sure until it actually takes place that any particular flight will be completed.

Undoubtedly complaints will be made by the public, but in view of the above you will appreciate the position of this Department. We have not been as yet notified of the reasons for the postponements but with war time conditions, enemy action, weather etc., the causes of postponements can be readily imagined. We are not objecting to criticism, but would like to have the fact established that we are at all times taking all possible steps to facilitate and expedite the delivery of mail.

Dealing with mail for troops overseas, I might explain that thousands of letters and parcels are reaching the Base Post Office insufficiently or incorrectly addressed. Such mail can be delivered only after search of military records to complete the addresses. This throws a serious strain on postal facilities and delay in the case of such mail naturally follows. We have been taking special steps to enlist the co-operation of the public in the proper addressing of letters and parcels for soldiers and I am pleased to say that there has been some improvements, but further educational effort will be needed.

Another source of complaint has been in connection with tobacco parcels for troops overseas. It has been suggested that the parcels are in some cases not reaching the addressee and the fault is laid at the door of the Post Office or of the Tobacco Company which had accepted the order. In this connection I might explain that a special system has been placed in effect whereby the Tobacco Companies and this Department co-operate in ensuring safe transmission of such parcels. Under the new arrangements a Post Office official "bags" the tobacco parcels at the despatching office of the Tobacco Company after the parcels are carefully numbered and listed to facilitate recording. Each and every one of these parcels is subsequently checked during course of handling at the Base Post Office for onward transmission. A further check is made on arrival in England to ensure safe delivery. Despite these precautions delay on occasions is inevitable, due to incorrect addressing; change of address after the parcel had been mailed; mail boat waiting for convoy; loss of parcels through the sinking by enemy action of ships carrying mail.

In order to ascertain the facts back of complaints of delay or non-delivery, a special check has been made by our Inspection Service. It was proven in each case investigated that (aside from losses by enemy action) alleged non-receipt of the parcel overseas was not due to misappropriation either at the Tobacco Company's quarters or at the Base Army Post Office—rather in each case it was ascertained that the difficulty rested either with the sender or the addressee of the parcel. In some cases the sender

POTATO SITUATION

In response to many inquiries about the prospects for potato market, Agricultural Representative W. M. Cockburn, calls the attention of those interested to the following quotation from a report of the Dominion Department of Agriculture at Ottawa, from which growers may draw their own conclusions.

"After two years of below-average crops, an approximately normal potato crop is being harvested in Canada in 1940. According to the first official estimate, the 1940 potato production is placed at 40,859,000 cwt. which is 4,469,000 cwt. or 12 per cent above that of 1939. Prince Edward Island and Nova Scotia have slightly larger potato crops than in 1939, while Quebec and New Brunswick show appreciable increases. On the other hand, the Ontario potato crop is reported at a very low level, due to root rot in the southwestern part of the Province, and to late blight. The Manitoba potato crop was somewhat disappointing but in Saskatchewan and Alberta, improvement in yields is reported. The British Columbia potato crop was also somewhat better than in 1939."

The 107th Anniversary services of the Christian Church here were well attended on Sunday. Dr. Mitchell of Ringwood delivered a scholarly and forceful address from the text in I Samuel, 7-12: "Hitherto hath the Lord helped us." The Forsythe quartette of Stouffville rendered three numbers very acceptably. In the evening the Kinsman quartette of Toronto furnished the music, and Mr. Ramer the message. Miss Norah Stapleton of Stouffville was organist. Several who formerly worshipped here were noticed in the congregations: Mr. and Mrs. W. Paterson and daughter, Evelyn of Newmarket; Mrs. Snowball of Markham, Misses J. Sage and M. Kellington of Stouffville, and Mrs. Heise, Stouffville. A generous thank-offering was received.

Old Jerry Will Never Get Britain

CANADIANS ARE FINE FELLOWS, STATES LETTER

The following interesting letter has been received by Mrs. Walter Collins, from her son in the Old Land.

14 Ninthwaite Rd.,
 Harrow, Mddx.,
 Oct. 2nd, 1940.

Dear Mum:

Received your welcome letter. Glad to see you are O.K. You seem a little downhearted. Well, you are not to be, as we are all happy here. Every man, woman and child are doing their bit here to win this war, and we are going to win. Old Jerry will never get Britain. We all know he is doing some dreadful things here. The by-word here is, go to it, and we are all going to it. I want you to do the same. Don't worry.

Well, Mum, I went to see a Canadian chap last week. He was playing snooker against the Scottish champion, and he beat him. His name is Con. Stanley. Well, Mum, I am still training three nights a week. Sorry I can't tell you the kind of work I am doing. We are not supposed to. I met two very nice Canadian airmen. They are jolly fine lads, and I got very friendly with them. They told me all about Canada. It is a fine country according to all accounts, especially Keswick. I was very interested in all they told me. I shall be flying over to see you some of these days. I asked the boys if they would like to go to Cambridge for the week-end with me to see my sister. They were just delighted. We went Saturday afternoon. When we got there Nelly had a very nice tea for us. Nelly and Dick went with us to the Coffee dance. We had a few hours' enjoyment there. We came home about 9 o'clock as we wanted to get a good night's sleep. We were different boys when we awoke after a good night's rest. It was just like heaven. It is three months since I had a good night's rest. We had breakfast and went to church and when we came back for dinner she had a splendid dinner for us. She killed two of her chickens. I bet you we gave them justice. We were so happy we were just like brothers and sisters. Nelly kept on saying to the boys, "I wish you knew my mother," so they said we will when we get back to Canada. They had to promise Nelly they would come back for Xmas if they are still in London. They did enjoy themselves very much. It was the best time they had since they left Canada. I will tell you where they were from in my next letter. I don't remember the place.

After dinner I was going to take them to see Ina and also around the Colleges. Old Jerry dropped a few bombs. We could not get out. We had to run to the shelter. They are very good things. There is no danger if you are in one. It was very cosy. It had seats all round and held had neglected to mail the parcel and in others the addressee had not acknowledged receipt and the sender assumed that it had not been received.

I have gone into this whole situation at length to enlist your sympathetic understanding of the difficulties involved. We welcome constructive criticism and are only too willing to investigate all legitimate complaints. On the other hand, ill-considered criticism only adds to the anxiety of relatives who feel that the Postal Service is their only link with their boys overseas.

May we count on your co-operation.

Yours very truly,
 W. J. Turnbull,
 Director.

NUMEROUS PRESENTATIONS FEATURE COMMENCEMENT

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 7) that, as a result of their untiring efforts, we will be able to take our places in this war-torn world of to-day.

Our sincerest thanks go also to the High School Board who have so ably supported the staff and taken such a great interest in us. Our school is one of the finest and most modernly equipped buildings of its kind. We are very proud of it, and sincerely appreciate the many advantages afforded us here.

In closing, I think this quotation from Milton expressed very clearly what the graduates of 1940 hope to be:

"Inflamed with the study of learning and the admiration of virtue, stirred up with high hopes of living to be brave men and worthy patriots, dear to God, and famous to all ages."

And now as we go on to deeper learning, all we ask of our successors is that they should fill our places even better than we have, and help to make N.H.S. a still greater school.

A hilarious one-act play by the students of Grade X, "A Young Man's Fancy," was cleverly portrayed, reflecting great credit on the directors, Messrs. Mungovan and Garrett. In the all-star cast were Doris Eves, Audrey Skelton, Joan Nesbitt, Jack Williams, Harold Lindenbaum and Bob McElroy.

The Glee Club, under the able direction of Marie Draper Lyons, received round upon round of applause, each and every number pleasing the audience.

Presentations of diplomas, medals and special prizes were made to the following students:

why not read that chapter and see how vivid a description St. Paul gives of his shipwreck. They surely had a wind to contend with on that occasion! "Euroclydon" is too nice a name for a "tempestuous" wind, isn't it? I fancy the word is of Grecian origin.

The troops up in Iceland tell of the constant terrific winds they have to contend with up there, and that hurricane that blew twenty of their tents and the roof off the kitchen unit out to sea! They will have plenty to tell us when they come home.

And now to finish up, did you ever hear it said that pigs can see the wind? I've heard it ever since I was young, but I don't know if it is a fact. However, yesterday I was down town to post a Christmas parcel, and my friend and I heard a most peculiar sound as we went down Main Street, which, as we drew nearer turned out to come from a truck load of pigs! They were looking up and making such a queer noise, not squealing, more like whimpering for until we were near enough we thought it was a child crying. But no—it was these pigs! They all seemed to be looking up at the sky and whining and moaning. Could they really "see the wind," and if they could, did they fear it?

Well, I guess that is something we cannot find out the answer. So we'll just say "Pigs Is Pigs" and "so long till next week."

YORK COUNTY SHOWS DROP IN HOSPITALIZATION COST

Fifteen Centres Decrease When Eleven Advance in Report of Dr. Hugh M. Cooke

Tremendous decreases in relief rolls and systematic checking of hospitals is credited by York County Council with keeping down the 1940 hospitalization costs of the 26 municipalities in the county, to the lowest in ten years.

Hospitalization Commissioner Dr. Hugh M. Cooke, in presenting his annual report Tuesday, revealed that total hospitalization costs for the first ten months were $163,119.05. This is $9,069.64 less than for a corresponding period in 1939 and $51,535 less than in 1936.

"Our hospitalization commissioner has been successful in creating a new low in hospitalization costs," declared Warden Earl Bales. "On behalf of council I congratulate him and all hospitalization officials of our municipalities."

A change in the hospitalization system, making hospitals responsible for the collection of refunds from patients instead of municipalities, was suggested by Deputy-Reeve Lorne Goodfellow of King Township.

"Now a patient can walk into a hospital, ask for treatment, and if he has no money, the hospital charges it up to his municipality. The latter then had to try and collect a refund from the patient. It is all wrong."

Fifteen municipalities in the county showed favorable decreases in hospitalization costs while eleven had slight increases.

Hospitalization costs in the municipalities as for nine months were: Aurora, $357.80; East Gwillimbury, $3,079.90; East York, $26,732.95; Etobicoke, $9,329.25; Forest Hill, $2,349.85; Georgina, $1,152.25; King, $868.15; Leaside, $731.35; Long Branch, $2,132; Markham, $2,234.85; Markham Village, $475.75; Mimico, $3,791.45; New Toronto, $4,636.50; Newmarket, $1,192.70; North Gwillimbury, $858; North York, $10,554.60; Richmond Hill, $593.25; Scarborough, $16,386.75; Stouffville, $1,263.35; Sutton, $731.15; Swansea, $2,151.40; Vaughan, $2,801.36; Weston, $1,232.10; Whitechurch, $1,658.55; Woodbridge, $113.55; York, $48,658.58; County of York, $1,845.56.

Total number of cases treated in the county were 3,262, of which 1,109 were relief recipients.

This Week's Gale

By Golden Glow

They say when you run short of something to talk about you can always fall back on the weather! Well, I must say the weather we have had this week needs no "falling back on," for it has been the subject of conversation right along, and is still, even if "The Great Blow" (lucky for us) seems to be over! It appears to have blown its way clear across the continent. Maybe it was the result of the disastrous earthquakes in Roumania and the East. Maybe it had its origin in the "Bad Lands" beyond the Dakotas, where so many gales originate.

Maybe it was an aftermath of the hurricane the Royal Regiment told about up in Iceland. Or maybe it was just one we had all for ourselves! At any rate, it did damage plenty. Blew loose shingles off people's roofs, blew down chimneys so the fire wouldn't burn, and furnaces balked, blew down electric signs, jerked off storm sash or anything loose it could get in behind.

Why it even blew the electric light out! If it hadn't been for a grand moon, we'd have had another "black-out." As it was, the moon did its best, but the majority of us went to bed, since it was bed-time, but we went to bed minus the late news, and the BBC "Britain Speaks" and the BBC "News Log."

Monday we had both wind and rain, and many a silk stocking proved to be little protection against the slashing rain. Luckily it hadn't then turned so cold as it is now, later in the week, but it poured all day, and the wind kept getting more and more boisterous, and under every tree were strewn twigs and small branches, and finally large limbs.

and no doubt whole trees! Next morning everyone went out to clear up the debris, and believe me we all needed to clean up, any of us who have trees! The poor little birds tucked themselves away in some safe spot to wait till the storm was over. Stray cats mewed at people's doors, begging to be taken in out of the storm.

I heard a scramble on the front verandah, and I opened the door to see what was wrong, and in dashed a strange dog, much to my amazement, evidently terrified, but there was nothing that I could see to frighten it! I pacified it, and fed it up, and let it stay a while, but what ailed it, unless it was the storm, I'm sure I don't know!

Then over the radio yesterday, and to-day, we are hearing of the havoc wrought by the storm on the shipping on the Great Lakes. It recalled to our minds another November when just such a gale, with the added horror of a snow-storm, took a terrific toll of life and shipping on the Lakes. It was before the last war, if I recall it right. The papers next day were full of it, and I never forgot the horror it roused in all of us, and every year since we are glad when the month passes with no disaster, and the ships are reported safe in their haven for the winter!

Don't you often wonder how the trees withstand the terrific onslaught of the wind? Their roots must be anchored deep in the soil, but it must be an awful ordeal all the same! That may read oddly, as if I gave to trees human feelings! But trees are so close to our hearts that if they suffer, we suffer with them.

However, a big wind I suppose has its uses! One is that it carries cones from evergreen trees to new locations, carries keys off a maple tree far enough away from the parent tree to give it room when it starts to grow. They say the wind is nature's house-cleaning implement, sweeping the world clean. But I am afraid the majority of us are rather relieved than otherwise when the wind quiets down.

In ancient days they had names for different winds. Do you recall the vivid story St. Paul tells in the 27th chapter of The Acts? St. Paul's calls the tempestuous wind "Euroclydon." By the way,
